

FREDERICK'S

— LOUNGE • BAR • TERRACE —

Frederick Gordon (1835-1904) known as "The Napoleon of the hotel world", founded the Gordon Hotels chain in 1890. He later became Chairman of the Frederick Hotels Company, building and opening the Hotel Majestic in 1900.

In 1900, at the end of the austere Victorian era and the beginning of the more relaxed Edwardian society, a new generation of hotels were taking on the qualities of stately homes. The small Yorkshire town of Harrogate, with its important spa, became home to one of England's finest hotels, The Harrogate Majestic. With grand, beautiful reception rooms, the Hotel Majestic provided a stage where high society could revel in luxury. From the day it opened, the Hotel Majestic became Harrogate's most prestigious address.

Today, Frederick's Piano Lounge is adorned with murals of eight beautiful English Spa towns: Bath, Buxton, Cheltenham, Hampstead, Royal Leamington Spa, Matlock, Royal Tunbridge Wells, and of course Harrogate.

Over the years, the Great Lounge at The Hotel Majestic has welcomed many famous names: Sir Edward Elgar, Sir Winston Churchill, Baroness Margaret Thatcher and in 1949, 4 years before her Coronation, HRH Princess Elizabeth accompanied by HRH Prince Phillip.

The Hotel Majestic has also seen many stars from the world of show business, including A-Ha, The Bee Gees, Bay City Rollers, Nigel Kennedy, Denis Waterman and Cilla Black to name but a few.

In celebration of the hotel's opening in 1900, its sister hotel in Marylebone London gifted a Grandfather clock. More than a century later, the clock can now be found in Frederick's Piano Lounge still in working order.

AFTERNOON TEA

British Afternoon Tea originated when Anna the Seventh, Duchess of Bedford, experienced what she called a 'sinking feeling' in the middle of the afternoon due to a long gap between light luncheon and her evening meal. To relieve her hunger pangs she asked her maid to bring her a pot of tea and a little light refreshment. She enjoyed this ritual so much she began to invite her friends over for tea and gossip about the latest scandals. Soon all of London was indulging in afternoon tea, as you can too! By late Victorian era, Afternoon tea fulfilled the purpose of socializing, event planning, introductions and informal business meetings. Our origins date back to the Victorian era and invite you to follow in these footsteps and indulge your sense of fantasy with our Afternoon Tea choices.
